Our Responsibility Under Auditing Standards Generally Accepted in the United States of America	As communicated in our arrangement letter dated July 22, 2014, our responsibility, as described by professional standards, is to form and express an opinion about whether the financial statements that have been prepared by the Texas Trust's management with your oversight are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Our audit of the financial statements does not relieve you or the Texas Trust's management of your respective responsibilities. Our responsibility, as prescribed by professional standards, is to plan and perform our audit to obtain reasonable, rather than absolute, assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit of financial statements includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, as part of our audit, we considered the internal control of the Texas Trust solely for the purpose of determining our audit procedures and not to provide any assurance concerning such internal control. We are also responsible for communicating significant matters related to the audit that are, in our professional judgment, relevant to your responsibilities in overseeing the financial reporting process. However, we are not required to design procedures for the purpose of identifying other matters to communicate to you. As communicated in the arrangement letter dated July 22, 2014, our responsibility, as described in Government Auditing Standards, is to report on the tests of internal control related to financial reporting and the tests of compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and other matters. However, they do not provide a basis for an opinion on the Texas Trust's internal control over financial reporting or on compliance and other matters.

Area	Comments
Other Information in Documents Containing Audited Financial Statements	We are not aware of any other documents that contain the audited financial statements. If such documents were to be published, we would have a responsibility to determine such financial information was not materially inconsistent with the audited financial statements of the Texas Trust.
Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit	We conducted our audit consistent with the planned scope and timing we previously communicated to Mr. Paul Ballard.
Qualitative Aspects of Significant Accounting Practices	Significant Accounting Policies Management has the responsibility to select and use appropriate accounting policies. A summary of the significant accounting policies adopted by the Texas Trust is included in Note 1 to the financial statements. There has been no initial selection of accounting policies and no changes in significant accounting policies or their application during the year ended August 31, 2014. No matters have come to our attention that would require us, under professional standards, to inform you about (1) the methods used to account for significant unusual transactions and (2) the effect of significant accounting policies in controversial or emerging areas for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. Significant Accounting Estimates Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's current judgments. Those judgments are normally based on knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ markedly from management's current judgments.

	The most sensitive accounting estimates affecting the financial statements are the estimated fair values of the individual securities within the investment portfolio. Management's estimates are based on information currently available, and the process used to calculate these estimates should be monitored throughout the year. These estimates were reviewed and it was determined they are reasonable in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole. Financial Statement Disclosures Certain financial statement disclosures involve significant judgment and are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. The most sensitive disclosure affecting the Texas Trust's financial statements relates to investments.
Significant Difficulties Encountered During the Audit	We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management relating to the performance of the audit.
Uncorrected and Corrected Misstatements	For purposes of this communication, professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those we believe are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. In addition, professional standards require us to communicate to you all material, corrected misstatements that were brought to the attention of management as a result of our audit procedures. In connection with our audit of the financial statements, we did not identify any corrected or uncorrected financial statement misstatements.
Disagreements With Management	For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, concerning a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, which could be significant to the Texas Trust's financial statements or the auditor's report. No such disagreements arose during the course of the audit.

Area	Comments
Representations Requested From Management	We have requested and received certain written representations from management in our standard representation letter dated November 19, 2014.
Management's Consultations With Other Accountants	In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters. Management informed us that, and to our knowledge, there were no consultations with other accountants regarding auditing and accounting matters.
Other Significant Findings or Issues	In the normal course of our professional association with the Texas Trust, we generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, business conditions affecting the Texas Trust, and business plans and strategies that may affect the risks of material misstatement. None of the matters discussed resulted in a condition to our retention as the Texas Trust's auditors.
